Re: Associate Director, ALM Strategy – Scotiabank

Dear Hiring Team,

I currently hold delegated sign-off authority on valuation, sensitivity, and ALM outputs for multi-asset institutional portfolios at Moody's Analytics, with day-to-day responsibility for reviewing interest-rate risk and duration analysis under parallel and non-parallel rate shocks. That is the discipline Scotiabank's Balance Sheet Management team within Group Treasury is built around, and I would like to be considered for the Associate Director, ALM Strategy role.

Over the past four years at Moody's I have led the design of a multi-scenario cash flow projection engine spanning base, stress, and reverse-stress views; architected time-bucketed liquidity gap analytics from T+1 through multi-year horizons; and reviewed derivatives pricing outputs across rates, FX, and inflation at portfolio-level ALM aggregates that inform hedging decisions. Before Moody's I delivered IFRS 17 and IFRS 9 transformation at EY, and stochastic ALM, LDI, and interest-rate / inflation / currency hedging analysis for pension funds at Ortec Finance, including the three-plan UPP merger study. I hold the CFA charter and dual MSc degrees in Financial Modelling and Chemical Engineering from Western University, and work daily in Python, SQL, and Excel.

What draws me specifically to this seat is the scope of the BSM mandate: developing the structural interest rate risk framework, maintaining the balance-sheet reporting models that drive hedging decisions, and synthesizing the resulting view for senior management and ALCO. My practitioner background – sign-off on portfolios of $5-25bn per engagement, behavioral cash flow assumptions and prepayment logic embedded in production tooling, and a track record of translating complex quantitative outputs into committee-ready narratives – maps directly onto that brief.

I am based in Toronto, available for interviews immediately, and can commit to a start approximately four weeks after offer acceptance. References available upon request. Thank you for your time.

Sincerely,
