Re: VP Investment Research & Portfolio Management – Equiton

Dear Hiring Team,

I advise institutional clients on portfolio construction and asset allocation, and I hold delegated sign-off authority on valuation, sensitivity, and portfolio outputs for multi-asset institutional portfolios of $5-25bn per engagement at Moody's Analytics – the research-to-decision discipline at the centre of Equiton Capital's VP Investment Research & Portfolio Management role. I would welcome the chance to be considered.

My work spans the three pillars this role demands. On research and portfolio analytics, I review curve construction, spread calibration, and cross-asset interactions, and I built the enterprise cash-flow projection engine that gives clients forward-looking portfolio and scenario visibility. On governance and oversight, I sit on Moody's model-governance committee, set documentation and benchmarking standards, and escalate outputs that fail economic defensibility – the same controls discipline that supports IFM and PM obligations. Earlier, at Ortec Finance, I advised pension-fund investment committees on Strategic and Tactical Asset Allocation, ran VaR/CVaR portfolio optimization with risk decomposition, and delivered LDI studies across multi-asset mandates – directly translating research into allocation recommendations that committees adopted.

What draws me to Equiton is the opportunity to help shape an evolving proprietary investment platform where research rigour, governance, and scalable product design intersect – precisely the seam my Moody's platform work and Ortec advisory background sit on. I am a CFA charterholder with dual MSc degrees, and I have spent my career turning complex analytics into clear, decision-ready narratives for senior stakeholders and clients.

I should be direct: my seven years are shorter than the fifteen-year CIO/PM benchmark, and I do not currently hold PM registration – I would pursue registration on the timeline the role requires and would rely on my governance, research, and allocation depth from day one. I am Toronto-based, available to interview immediately, and can start approximately four weeks after an offer. Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
